DESIGNER BOYS ART
New Releases & Perennial Favourites

THE ART OF YOUR INTERIOR STORY

If walls could talk, they'd ask to be well dressed by Designer Boys.

Thanks to the Designer Boys exciting 2023 Collective, designers can transform interiors into extraordinary experiences. Every piece is intended to live beyond trends and designed to work with the scale and style of any city, beach or country pad. And you don't have to be an art collector to achieve a bespoke look.

Designer Boys have embraced the idea that good art isn't exclusive to the elite, collaborating with artists around the world to create attractive, timeless and extremely versatile art.

Designer Boys is the designers' favourite. They all come for the same thing-brilliant art that works, particularly in Australian interiors.

The bold, graphic imagery, textural patterns and colours are both timeless and contemporary, offering an exceptional range that works in any kind of interior for any kind of person.

I am proud to work with Designer Boys, like - minded individuals, who have traveled the globe, shared their passion with so many, and set trends in art, revolutionising the industry in Australia.

Designer Boys make it possible for everyone to enjoy art, without sacrificing any artistic quality or craftsmanship. Be inspired by pieces that can drive the design of an entire home and make your rooms feel special.

We invite you to take a look at some of their outstanding artwork for 2023 in a curated collection of perennial favourites and new releases and to keep watch for their regular new launches that will guide your interior in the right direction this year.

Oh, and we love the addition of rejuvenating colour for the coming year. Remember, part of creating style is trying new things.

IT TAKES TIME TO REFINE A DESIGN

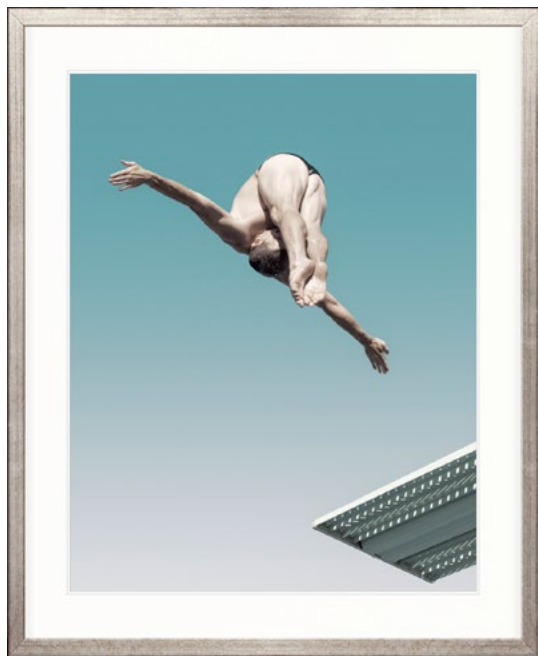

We love to embrace art in a soft, earthy patina to soothe our souls and reconnect to an emotional calm in our interiors.

WHAT'S TRENDING IN INTERIORS

Melissa Penfold's 2023 Exclusive

01

MAXIMALISM COMEBACK

More is definitely more. We've heard talk recently of "minimalism fatigue", and we've found ourselves swayed by colour and pattern. Call it an after-effect of being cooped up indoors over the past few years, or just the design pendulum swinging to the opposite extreme, but maximalism or shades of it, is making a comeback.

ESCAPISM

In times where mobility and new experiences feel limited, we look to art to help create moments of escape from our daily routines, make space for the surreal, and give our homes the vibe most people seek from a holiday.

02

03

COLOUR OBSESSION

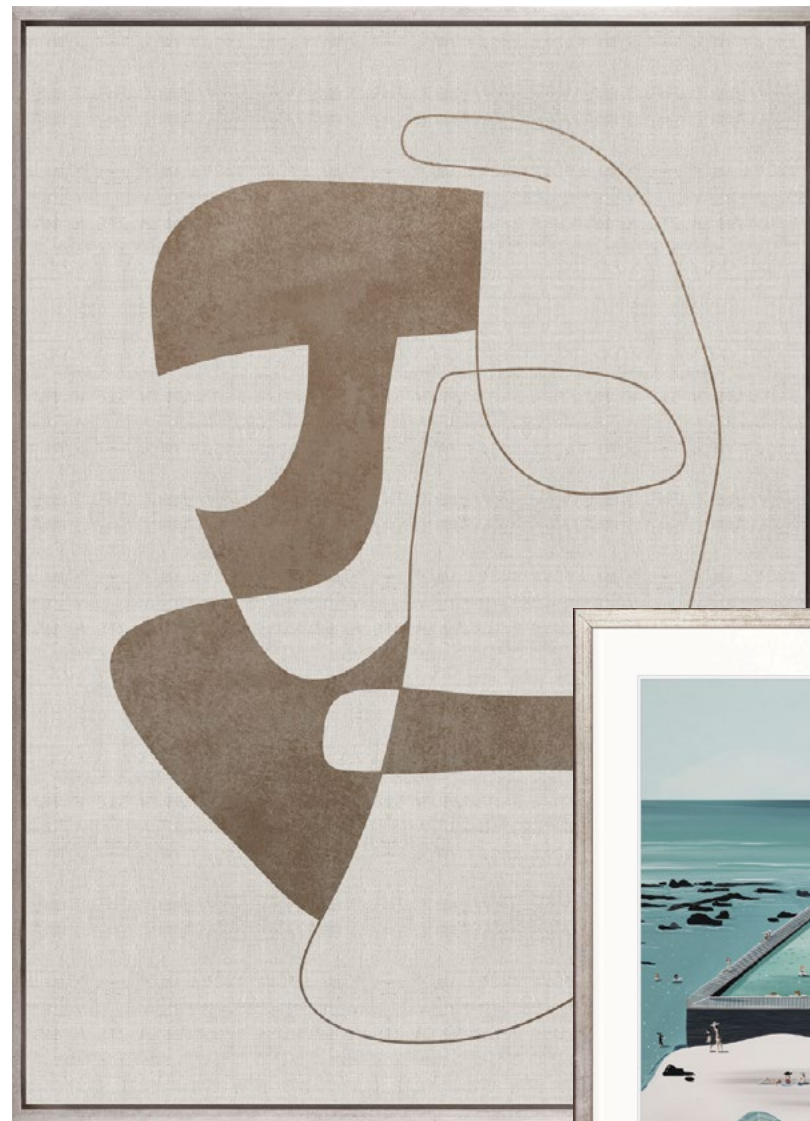

Colour is back in a big way, with all-over colour in a single hue from the walls to the ceiling. This move to the bright side includes art, with a new mood of vibrancy that is determined to banish any bad memories of recent times. Across the board the use of colour for 2023 is really refreshing to see. It's guaranteed to brighten up your home and your spirits.

STATEMENT MAKER

Statement-making art is everywhere we look these days. Ideal for the buzzing conversationalist, the collector that goes against the grain, and the early adopter. It's for the art enthusiast that wants notes of drama, intrigue, loudness and bold statements within their home.

04

05

LANDSCAPE PALETTES

People's love affair with soothing greens, greys, and earth tones continues, but it's not just a simple case of aesthetics. Research shows a correlation between mental health and beauty in both nature and interior design, that's driving trends for 2023. Natural colour schemes and organic forms make us happier.

06 GALLERY WALL

Selecting how to display your artworks is increasingly about combining layered storytelling and vibrant palettes, which are having a moment. One piece on a wall is never enough right now.

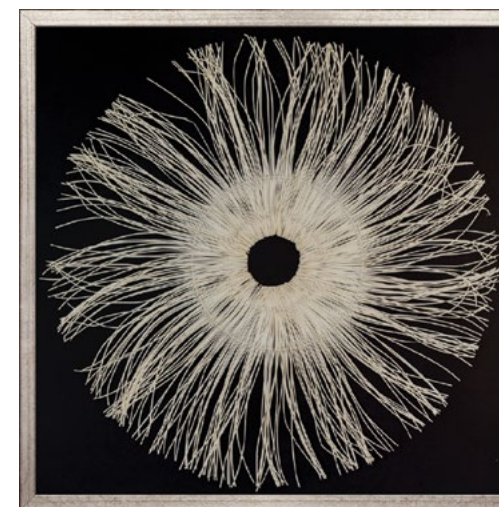

“
Interiors are increasingly becoming less about what's trending and more about self-expression.

M.P.x

07 LAYERED MEDIA

These days, it's a commonplace to embrace a mix of art, but this year's deft integration of design with art is pushing interiors to a new level of sophistication. One-note spaces are long gone. People prefer casual over formal, with interiors that feel layered and reflect their personality and interests.

08 HAND DRAWN

Hand-painted details are everywhere. This year, the trend is getting even more freehand, with hand-drawn art taking over, like these scribbled figures and simple nudes

SURREALISM

A mind bender of sorts, surrealism is meant to activate the unconscious and push the boundaries of what we think is possible. From rare moments captured in nature, to mythical wildlife the warping of images is big news.

09

10 LAND, SEA & SKY

Embracing stunning elements of nature can help bring what you love from the outside into your home. We've noticed artworks depicting seascapes, and beach scenes all over the place. They make interiors feel 'relaxed' - places where people are more likely to feel happy, calm, at ease and able to switch off.

NEW EXPRESSIVE WAYS TO INSPIRE

We love being creative and joyful in our art.
And this year, is no exception. We've added our designer signature & artistic flair more than ever to our art.

MY PERFECT PIECES

Every interior needs to tell a story. At the top of my favourites, are artworks created with a fresh, nature inspired palette. I'm embracing art that imbues rejuvenation of spirit, looks good and doesn't date quickly.
